Association News

Congrats to San Diego Chapter 21’s Rhonda Mitchell!

This year, AGC launched a new initiative to highlight public agencies for their success in getting the best value out of every construction dollar. After an extensive survey of AGC’s 1,100+ member firms, five public agencies rose to the top.

2019 AGC President Steve Friar presented University California San Diego’s (UCSD’s) Rhonda Mitchell and Joel King the Best of the Best Public Owner Award! We’re so proud of you, Rhonda!

Leadership Book Club Update

Happy New Year! The Leadership Book Club is excited to announce that they have selected "Dream Wide Awake," a book written by a NAWIC member, Sherre’ DeMao, from the Charlotte, North Carolina Chapter, where she is currently serving as their Corresponding Secretary.

January/February Issue of NAWIC Today Available Now!

We are living in a digital age, and technology plays a huge role in the evolving landscape of the construction industry. To start the new year, our January/February issue of NAWIC Today will be taking a deep dive into the many facets of technology and how it plays into our daily lives – both personally and professionally. You’ll hear from Angela Highland on building a personal brand in the digital age; read a continuation of our “Growing Pains” series, in which we discuss the importance of integrating technological change into our roadmaps for the future; gain insight into decoding software agreements; and learn about building a net zero energy efficient home with integrated smart technology. Our Safety Committee also shares some information and tips on cybersecurity, and you’ll hear from our Membership and Marketing Committee about how NAWIC powers each of us. Stay on the cutting edge with Today's technology issue!

The 7 Biggest Construction Safety Stories of 2019

Construction safety is one of the most important topics in the industry. It's important to stay up-to-date with these stories not only from a governmental compliance standpoint, but to improve the lives of the workers on your jobsite and reduce the inherent risks of the jobs.

Here are the 7 safety stories from 2019 that ConstructionJunkie.com believes could have the biggest effect on the industry moving forward.
$54 Billion Wearable Tech Industry Offers Immense Opportunity for the Construction Industry

Expected to reach $54 billion by 2023, the wearable tech market offers the potential to transform the construction industry through the ability to improve safety and efficiency.

Three Out of Four Construction Firms Plan to Add Workers in 2020

Despite signs the overall economy may be slowing, most construction firms expect demand for their services and hiring will expand in 2020, yet even more firms are worried about their ability to find qualified workers to hire, according to survey results released today by the Associated General Contractors of America and Sage Construction and Real Estate.

"Walk In My Boots!" Feminist Plumber Pens Powerful Essay On Being a Woman in Construction Trade

"Here's the question men at a construction site never get: Are you qualified?"

Women get asked this every day of every job. So, allow me to answer for all us: Hell, yes, we're qualified."

~ Judaline Cassidy
